2) Reason for the Revision

A large number of new buildings' delivery, while cargo movements' growth remained low, expanded the imbalance between supply and demand in shipping capacity in containership business; and in addition, a decrease of demand following Chinese economic deceleration in dry bulk business brought sluggish market.

Despite the efforts to improve profitability by conducting efficient fleet assignments and cutting operating costs, based on the prospect of the continuous sluggish market mainly in containership business and dry bulk business, we revised downward financial results for the full year as aforementioned.

Note: The forecasts of financial results set forth in this document were calculated based on available information at the time of announcement. Actual results may differ from the forecast because of various factors such as future developments in the business environment.
